The 75 year old John MUNROE appeared to be a friendly, grandfather-like individual who gained the trust of a single parent family over a period of several years. In the summer of 2015, he was allowed to babysit their daughter who was under the age of 10. MUNROE then allegedly sexually assaulted the child on numerous occasions and took pornographic photographs of her. When MUNROE was arrested for the above charges in September of 2015, a packed suitcase containing his belongings and a shotgun were located at his residence. MUNROE was subsequently placed on a court ordered GPS monitoring device which was intentionally removed on or about October 23, 2015. Warrants were issued for MUNROE's arrest, his vehicle was later located in Hull, MA by investigators and he remains at large.
